Coiffures Worn High, Showing the Forehead—Powdered Hair Seen in Paris—The Artificial Flower More in Vogue Now Than Earlier in the Season—Worn at Waistline Both Back and Front—Etiquette of Bridal Calls—Wedding Gift—Gifts for the Bridesmaids—Fashion Hints.

COIFFURE WORN HIGH, SHOWING THE FOREHEAD

After the really atrocious accents marked by many of the early autumn styles it is more or less of a positive pleasure to note the picturesque and charm of many of the late fall fashions now creeping into favor. Of course their approach is slow. A style is seldom a thing of sudden growth. It is too dangerous, launching a new fashion idea on the sea of public favor without first testing that same capricious public, stretching out tentacles, as it were, and then withdrawing them if everything isn't just propitious, till a more favorable time.

For one thing foreheads have come back into vogue. They never have gone completely out of favor here, but both in Paris and in England for a long time past women have persisted in covering their foreheads with hair elaborately waved or curled. Now, though, the pendulum has swung back again and women of the ultra fashionable world are coming forth in headresses comparable only to the famous beauties of many decades ago. With hair profusely powdered, especially at the sides, it is waved but slightly and then drawn back from the face and piled high behind in huge, soft rolls.

The one important feature connected with this hair powdering and which a conscientious Parisienne never forgets is the necessity of using a face powder which blends perfectly with the powder on the hair. Otherwise the effect is decidedly artificial and unattractive.

Another picturesque accessory is the artificial flower that has not the slightest resemblance in the world to any flower found in nature. This fashion was launched some months ago, but did not make much headway at first. Now, though, exquisitely beautiful as so many of them are, they have really ensconced themselves in public esteem. Some of the handiest and most bizarre being shown in the shops here are made in two shades of the pink and purple with glittering diamond dewdrops poised in several of the petals and a background of tiny velvet leaves of huge size. These roses are used at the waist line, front and back, in the place of bows.

None of these roses is worn, however, in the hair. Women here have refused repeatedly to wear either flowers or ribbons for a headpiece. They persist in their love, the feather, and will not be diverted. In the case of furs and evening wraps just as with headresses and turban toques there is a plainly evidenced tendency to adopt the style of Marie Antoinette, the "grand style." The fur wrap of today is every bit as huge and sumptuous and magnificent as any shown on the cracked canvass of the old masters. The old fashioned basque of a hundred years ago, sometimes frilled and combined with a well draped corset, is back in favor. Of almost infinite design these same basques are now appearing on the most exclusive models shown.

WILSON OFFERS AMENDMENT

Washington, Dec. 5.—A joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment empowering congress to define, prevent and suppress monopolies, conspiracies, combinations and agreements in restraint of trade has been introduced by Representative Nelson of Wisconsin.

FOR THE BRIDE

Etiquette of Bridal Calls. These must be looked upon as first calls, although the bride before her marriage was included in the calls paid to her mother, but after marriage the call is made to her husband and herself, although the husband may be a comparative stranger to the caller. The fact of having been present at the wedding requires that a call should be subsequently made up on the young couple, and thus one is actually made and cards are only left in the case of the bride not being at home.

Stoppers For Family Jars.

A bride, upon opening a package received on her wedding day, was surprised to find a dozen or more covers of various sizes, fastened by ribbon to a large cork. Attached to this was a card upon which was written: "Some stoppers for the family jars." Later the sender was informed that when the first disagreement arose the discussion as to the size of the cork best fitted to the "jar" caused so much amusement that the trouble was soon forgotten.

A Hint to the Bride.

Choose your bridesmaid for her figure and carriage, rather than for her face alone. A girl who carries herself well and walks gracefully has the requisites for success in that trying walk up the aisle that is not possessed by her of the pretty face alone.

Gift For Bridesmaids.

One little bride, with more ingenuity than money, made photograph frames from material like her wedding dress, placed therein her portrait and that of her fiancé, then had the whole thing mounted under glass with a small gilt rim of picture frame molding. Her maids were delighted with the gifts.

Fashionable Hatpins.

The most fashionable hatpin has an extremely small head of metal, in ball or fancy shape, or in jet, pearl, amber or colored glass, to carry out the color scheme of the hat or costume, and many of the newest ones are made in the new "within the law" lengths, ranging from 3 1/2 inches to 8 1/2 inches.

Bracelet Vanity Case.

A new novelty in the jewelry world is a novelty bracelet, which is fitted with a watch-shaped vanity holder, equipped with mirror and puff. The same model may be designed for a coin-holder in place of the vanity. These bracelets are decidedly new and quite out of the ordinary for "fussing up."

THEATERS

AT THE ORPHEUM.

To see such a high class program as the one which is being presented by the Orpheum theatre this week is certainly getting entertainment very cheaply.

The Boris Franklin troupe of Russian singers and dancers could easily headline a bill at considerably higher prices and all of the other acts are well up in the line of "class."

The Russians are wonderfully developed in the line of equilibrium dancing. It does not seem to matter much to them whether their bodies have any support or not, for they move so quickly that they never lose their balance. The act is beautifully costumed and staged and the eight—three women and five men—present a splendid chorus of singers.

with a powerful baritone lead. "A Day at Ellis Island" is also a fine bit of entertainment, presenting the favorite character actor, Maurice Samuels, and an excellent company. The playlet gives a view of a set of characters which may be seen almost any day at the noted gateway to the United States and in its lines comedy and pathos are mixed in a manner that "gets" the audience from curtain to curtain. Mr. Samuels and Miss Ida Chester as the Italian couple were almost prototypes of the characters they represented; Tony Rizzo as the "son" was a real type and won a number of ovations for his pleasing violin playing. William F. Allen in the double role of a Gatekeeper and a Chaplain, was equal to both and George Salisbury fit well into the part of the Inspector. Gilbert Lasse, billed as an "eccentric singer," mimics with a number of brand new songs and parodies that are screamingly funny. He is a mezzo-soprano, a music hall comedian, a Swiss yodeler, a basso-profano, and a baritone and "gets" away with all of them in a manner that made the audience want him to sing the rest of the night. And when his singing voice tired, he gave a recitation that again brought down the house.

MRS. WILSON TO JOIN THE SPUGS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—National scope to the so-called "Spugs" movement, the Society for the Prevention of Unsexed Girls, is being organized by the women's movement of the National Civic Federation under the honorary chairmanship of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president. The movement, which began in New York, is now to be federated in Washington through committees from various states.

In statement outlining the national scope of the organization, Mrs. Maud Wetmore, chairman of the woman's department of the National Civic Federation, tells of the good to be accomplished in reducing useless giving among shop girls and other wage forkers.

SALESMAN IS SHOT BY STENOGRAPHER

New York, N. Y., Dec. 5.—Nathan Chase, a salesman for a firm of cotton fabric jobbers, was shot at his desk late today by Rose Pressman formerly employed as a stenographer in the office. Chase died later in a hospital, where the woman is lying in a serious condition with a bullet wound, self-inflicted, after her attack upon Chase.

The woman refused to make a statement and her motive for the double shooting is not known. A relative of Chase said he discharged the woman a year ago because of her attentions to Chase, who did not return them.

Small quantities of electroized sea water poured into fresh water swimming pools has been found an efficient sterilizer against bacteria.

NEW METHOD OF WHITE SLAVERS

Stab Unsuspecting Women in Arm With Needle Carrying Powerful Opium.

London, Dec. 5.—A hypodermic needle, believed to have contained a powerful opiate, was thrust into the arm of Mrs. Marjorie H. Graft, a bride of a week, while she sat in a box in a Newark theatre today. She made her way to a woman's room, where she fainted. Recovering, she communicated to the police her suspicion that a young man, a stranger who was seated behind her in the box, had plunged the needle into her arm.

The police arrested a young South American, Armando Megaro, formerly a student in the New Jersey college of pharmacy, Newark.

Megaro protested his innocence. He was held on a technical charge of assault.

No needle was found on him or in the box. Experiences almost identical to that of Mrs. Graft have been reported to the police of New York, Brooklyn, Newark and other cities recently. Detectives investigating these cases have worked on a theory that white slavers have taken this means of making women their victims.

In several instances the persons attacked were taken in charge by individuals pretending to be relatives, according to police accounts of the disappearance of several women.

BROKEN JOURNAL IS CAUSE OF WRECK

Salt Lake, Dec. 4.—The breaking of a journal on one car of a freight train of the Denver & Rio Grande yesterday afternoon at 10 o'clock near the Graven gravel pit between Midvale and Lehi, caused the overturning of five freight cars and an engine being hauled to this city. Traffic was delayed until 11:05 o'clock last night, trains Nos. 1, 2, 4, 5, 410 and 511 being detained over the Salt Lake route from Provo to Murray.

One of the freight cars contained ore and another salt, and the other three coal.

DIG MONEY IN THE COLLEGE FOOTBALL GAMES

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 5.—From a financial point of view, according to a statement today from the offices of the Yale ticket department, the 1913 football season "was one of the best Yale has ever had." The Yale-Princeton and Yale-Harvard games at attendance is given as approximately 33,000 and 48,000 respectively. Based on these figures, the statement says, the Yale receipts from these games were about $80,000—one-half of the gross earnings of the two games $30,000.

After deductions for expenses, the net earnings from the two games amount to about $35,000. The receipts from the other games were about $4000.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautiful, soft, glossy and abundant.

Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Witch Hazel Hair Restorer," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy soft and abundant.—Agents, A. R. McIntyre.

DECLARED INSANE.

Provo, Dec. 4.—Tony Schillatti, a Russian Pole, 38 years of age, came down from Castle Gate on the train this afternoon, and when the train reached Provo he started to run along the street as if pursued by enemies, which, indeed, he imagined he was. Chief of Police W. F. Giles and Deputy Sheriff C. H. Clark took the man in charge and brought him to the sheriff's office, where he told them that he had been employed at Castle Gate; that an Italian and two Swedes were after him, and that he was running away from the train to find a policeman. Later he was examined before Commissioner Ben Isaac by Drs. E. G. Hughes and J. W. Ald and was committed.

PIONEER TANNER QUILTS BUSINESS

Kenosha, Wis., Dec. 5.—Mathias Werve, a Kenosha tanner, who went to Japan in the 70's at the request of the emperor of Japan, to teach American tanning methods, today announced his retirement. Mr. Werve has been connected with the same company 67 years, beginning at 12 years of age.

GIANTS SIGN CUBAN PITCHER

New York, N. Y., Dec. 5.—Secretary John B. Foster of the New York National League club, announced today that the Giants had signed Emilio Palmore, the sensational young Cuban pitcher.

HUERTA SEEKING FOR MORE MONEY

Sends Minister of Finance to Paris to Negotiate Loan to Mexico

Mexico City, Mexico, Dec. 5.—Hoping that he will be able to do what others have failed to do, President Huerta is sending to Europe his minister of finance, Adolfo de la Tama, on a money seeking mission. The minister left for Vera Cruz last night and will proceed from there to Paris.

Senor de la Tama is in close relations with Jose de Lamantour, the former minister of finance, and other members of the old regime who are now in Europe and through him, hopes, it is said, to be able to obtain money. He retains his position as minister of finance, the office being conducted in his absence by the sub-secretary. It developed yesterday that the plan of the foreign colonies for defense involves an effort to have marines of nations other than the United States brought here to join the local organization which is being formed. The plan was discussed by the diplomats yesterday, but the American charge d'affaires, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, was not at the meeting.

It is reported that in case of an attack on the capital becomes imminent an effort will be made to induce General Huerta and his forces to move outside the city.

The British minister, Sir Lionel Carden, has sent out a second circular to his nationals again urging registration and asking for information as to their military experience.

The Americans continue to do nothing with respect to their own defense.

A LOVELY FACE—BUT UGLY HAIR

How often you see an otherwise lovely face spoiled by homely hair—a face that would be most charmingly beautiful if she only had prettier hair. What a pity!—and how foolish! Because that ugly hair stringy, dull, lifeless-looking though it may be, can be made as glossy, soft, silky and beautiful as the heart could desire if only taken proper care of.

Harmony Hair Beautifier is just what it is named—a hair beautifier. It is not a hair dye or hair oil—it is just a dainty, rose-perfumed liquid dressing to give the hair its natural gloss and brightness, its natural wavy softness, its natural rich beauty. Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo slaves an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair, leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet-smelling cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in the community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made. BEGINS FIGHT ON INCOME TAX

Elsie De Wolfe, Attacks Constitutionality of Law—Other Suits May Follow.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The attack on the constitutionality of the income tax law by Elsie De Wolfe, the actress, is believed by Representative Cordell Hull of Tennessee, frame of the law, to be the forerunner of similar attacks to be made by rich Americans who live abroad and draw their incomes from American investments.

"I cannot sympathize with this lady in her desire to escape the payment of this just tax," said Judge Hull today. "Possibly her residence in France which she sets up, although claiming citizenship in this country, has enabled her to escape taxation both in the United States and in France."

"She should pay the tax, as should others who derive their incomes under protection of this government. I trust that the 30,000 or more other wealthy American citizens claiming residence in France and deriving their chief income from the United States may not join her in this complaint. The tax is to equalize the burden. Citizens living in this country have to pay state, municipal, county and other taxes in addition to the customs tax."

DETENTION SYSTEM IN NAVY A SUCCESS

Washington, Dec. 5.—Excellent results followed the adoption of the detention system for the punishment of sailors and marines convicted by court-martial of military offenses, according to the annual report of Judge Advocate General Russell, U. S. N. The discipline, he says, is firm, consistent and continuous. The men are given clearly understood that they are under re-

BAN ON KILLING OF YOUNG CATTLE

New York, N. Y., Dec. 5.—A legislative ban on the killing of cattle under two years of age is the object sought through a resolution adopted by the New York State Hotel Association at a meeting held here today.

Statistics were read to show that beef will cost $1 a pound in eight years if the indiscriminate slaughtering of calves continues.

NEWSPAPER MAN DIES.

Provo, Dec. 4.—Fred J. Joeger, aged 29, died here today of tuberculosis and Bright's disease. He was born at St. Mary, Pa., and his father lives near Portland, Ore., while other relatives reside at Boise, Idaho. Mr. Joeger came to Utah about six years ago. He was a newspaper man and worked on the Post here. About a year ago, he went to Arizona, but three months ago he returned to Provo, entirely broken down. Funeral arrangements will not be made until the relatives are heard from.

SENATE UNABLE TO GET SUBWAY AUTOS

Washington, Dec. 5.—The senate has found it impossible to get an automobile manufacturer to construct two machines suited to the needs of the subway that run from the capitol to the senate office building. As a result the senate rules committee decided not to remove the private monopoly system which was to have been discontinued because of the noise it makes.

DOON WANTS TINKER.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 4.—Manager Doon of the Philadelphia National League baseball club, today offered August Hermann, president of the Cincinnati club, a trade of Doon and Knabe of the Philadelphia team for Tinker and Groh. Doon declared tonight that he expects his offer to be accepted.
